

12.1.1 – I find this section unclear.

18.3 b) – ‘until after a given length of time.’ Time not specified.

24.2.4 What if number re-assigned re: pre-existing opt-out?

28.2.1 Refer to web standards

Refer: 23. 1.3

As for the $30 notifications - this should be a telco compliance/to do - for reference recently there was 'bill shock' legislation passed in UK/EU - could be useful for modelling
<http://www.telecoms.com/15041/eu-data-roaming-regulations-and-the-rise-of-personalised-user-policies/>

Refer: 28. 1. 1 e)

As for bots - I would have thought that if someone signed up to bot chat, then they know what they are in for and/or this could be re-affirmed at subscription confirm - although I was worried I missed the whole concept of how these (mobile) bots referred to work as opposed to AI bots. Perhaps clarification of bots.

In general,

The analogy of an ISP ( Internet Service Provider) and Power company is to provide a service to a consumer. If a consumer decides to conduct or engage in illegal activities via the web or power up weapons of mass destruction - then the responsibility cannot be laid on the ISP or Power company. I feel the same should apply within this code.

Rachel Hatch | General Manager | Run The Red | M +64 21 72 72 33 | PH +64 (4) 384 6880 | F +64 (4) 384 6875

RUN THE RED®