
Nikko C - Submission on the draft copyright Code of Practice for S92A

Totally missing the point..... (re: section 92a a.k.a the "1984" bill)

and here is why:

- ISPs will go out of business, b/c why do I need a 15GB cap anymore, if unable to download copyright material, when that material is freely available and not signposted as being copyrighted at all on services such as Limewire? Thus it is business here care and, whatsmore, totally nullifies any need for broadband cabling, higher speeds etc etc etc - so no one will pay for or subscribe to them, costing the government and ISPs BILLIONS. It will be an unmitigated shambles.

I will downgrade mine to about 5GB or less, and so will everyone else, creating a massive economic disaster with less earnings, job losses as a result etc etc..... I may as well have dial-up if download speed is irrelevant mightn't I?

- With Orcon, that means they will now be providing a phone service for free to me, as how will I exceed 5GB with zero downloads!?!?? So I can now switch over to their silver plan from the purple, cos I can't download, so what is the point 15GB cap? There isn't one. You have shot yourself in the foot Orcon.... and so indeed may plenty of other customers see the light, costing them/you oodles.... Makes no sense.....

We are in a recession after all....

- Also, Orcon, you say you don't like it, but not all ISPs signed on, so you are lying, it was a choice and you made it.
- The ability, for example, of one to occasionally download pornography (mainstream and legal in content - actors etc etc) but not pay means the purveyors of porn don't get paid - effectively demotivating the subjugation of women in adult films, BECAUSE IT DOES NOT MAKE THEM ANY MONEY - B/C THAT IS WHAT HAPPENS IF THEY MAKE ALL OF THE PROCEEDS FROM PEOPLE VIEWING!!!! Basic commonsense.

In other words, you are encouraging the pursuit of porn and the exploitation of women as a career path.

Think about it - somewhere outside of the box for once too.....

This is not communist Russia in the frikkin 50s, this is NZ.

- People always download that which they would otherwise NOT pay for anyway!! No one is losing out... don't you get it!?!?!?!?!?

If I want to listen to a band I love, I buy the album, if I want to check something out or hear one song, I may download it (but I would NEVER buy it), however, if it is good, I would. So instead of encouraging the flow of monies, you are drying them up. How excruciatingly ironic and unfathomably myopic of you...

How about the ISPs think about it another way - Pass the bill and/or stay on that list of participants, and perhaps find yourself on the list of businesses being liquidated for disrespecting and manipulating the freedoms of your customers.

Sincerely

One of the thousands of people who find this measure repulsive in the extreme..... blimmin' Nazis.
